TWELVE RECRUITS SIGNED FOR CUBS

Murphy Will Try Hard to Strengthen Weak Parts of Team.

Chance At First.

The report that Chance will retire from the first bag and become a bench manager is absolutely erroneous, for by the terms of his contract with the Chicago National League club he has to be in condition to play until 1914, but that doesn't preclude him from develop-ing any material he desires to take his ing any material he desires to take his place when he is willing to retire to the position of benen manager.

In Jimmy Archer he has a wonderful substitute but Archer is too good a catcher to take from behind the plate. So it is that Chance is going to see what he can do next season with Victor A. Saler, who played first base for Eansing this season, and wound up the season batting 375. Saler is a young feilow, scarcely twenty, and over six feet tall, and handles himself in the manner born. He is a grand hitter, and with a little experience in major league company should show some real form. As a Chance understudy he has an opportunity to gain fame.

Likes Outfield

Likes Outfield.

It wouldn't be right to predict that the old guard of the Cubs' line-up would remain next season, but it is generally believed that Chance is out fields. Davis, of the Athletics, is years oner than Chance, but the balance of Mack's infield is much younger than the Cub layout.

outfield—Sheckard. Hofman, and Schulte—with Beaumont as the utility man, suits him down to the ground, and for that reason not much attention was pald to the gardens in the selection of recruits for next season. The only outfielder engaged for trail is Harry Ball, who halis from Adrian, Mich., the home of Frank Navin, pressident of the Detroit team. Navin didn't want him, having Cobb, Craw and Sepassed, him up, and Murphy grabbed him on the recommendation of Manager Vandergriff, of the Adrian club. When Chance found that he might need Archer for work at first he concluded that his catching staff needed attention, and next spring will try out a couple of youths. They are Lee Angemier, of Paris, Kv., and Arthur L. Sewell, of Lincoln, Ill.

The rest of the new crew are pitchers. It was the poor work of the twirlers that cost the Cubs the world's series, and everybody is anxiously awaiting the moment when other twirlers will be developed. Great things are expected from Fexen and Weaver, but in case either one or both of them fail down there will be other young material to develop.

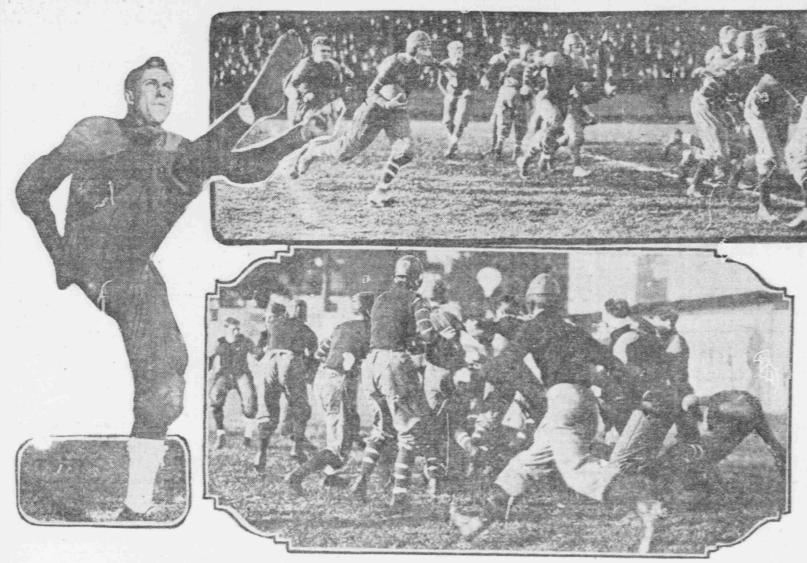

Of the four pitchers who will report they wonk on the few fails in the leaderships before or one that is the confidence, and each was willing to confidence, and each was willing to any seem mone, but remains, to some of the ming. But the chances are that Harry Davis will be a big league manager inside of two years. Connie Mack has a great regard for Davis and is willing to keep him at Philadelphia as long as the first sacker desires, but if Harry is effected a good chance to

CENTRAL MOVES UP ON CHAMPONSHIP

Victory Over Business Gives Winners Bright Prospects for High School Title.

Central High School moved up another peg in the race for the champlonship honors and Business went down to its second defeat in the series yesterday through a Central victory in a 17 to 0

The score in no way indicates the closeness of the contest as Central was fortunate in getting away with two forward passes which went for touch-downs. Business fought at every turn and held Central for downs on its goal

Rathbone and Scott for the Stenogra phers, and Reuter, Hamilton and King for Central, played the best games. Havit not been for the strength of Central secondary defense Business would have scored. Zapponi, for Business, proved that he is rapidly becoming one of the best defensive players in the high schools and his work yesterday stamp him as being a capidlate for the him as being a candidate for the mythi cal all high school team.

Central is now looking forward to the big game with Tech and will bend every effort to get its team into shape for what is being looked forward to as an epochmaking game in high school foot-
